

Reflection and Prayer for NHS Workers

When reporting on the rising cases of Coronavirus in our nation's capital, the health correspondent for Tuesday's ITN News expressed how she was moved when speaking to a nurse from a London Health Trust, severely under pressure. The nurse had said that many staff were now pausing and taking a moment to pray being going on shift – something they have never done before.

As we light our candle this evening – let us hold those who pray and those who don't in the circle of light that our prayer offers. Surrounding all those who are working in the NHS and those supporting them:

*Lord Jesus Christ, you said to your disciples,
'I am with you always'.*

Be with those in the NHS who are offering themselves selflessly for the good of others.

We as a nation are indebted to them.

As we light this candle – hear our prayers for them, and keep them in your loving care. Amen

The Reverend Prebendary Jackie Taylor